Would it be like our Father in heaven to choose to abort one of His children—never allowing for that one even the potential for life? Is this the nature of who He is? Sadly, because of an overreach in Calvinist teachings, with regard to the working out of God's sovereignty, the character of the Father has been so maligned. God is sovereign. He does what He wants to do. Nonetheless, in His perfect and ruling desire, God has chosen to limit Himself and to engage with men. Through Scripture—and in response to Calvinism—"God's Sovereignty and Our Responsibility: His Heart for All Men" establishes the Father's heart for all men, as both God's rule and man's place of agreement are rightly brought into balance.
