Introduction Donald Trump once said he was troubled by President Obama's high standing among African Americans, suggesting he probably wouldn't get support from Black voters that he believes he deserves. "I have a great relationship with the Blacks. I've always had a great relationship with the Blacks," Trump said on Talk 1300 AM radio in Albany, N.Y. Trump was considering running for President in 2012. He was responding to host Fred Dicker's reference to a recent Quinnipiac Poll showing Obama enjoys strong support from African Americans in New York State. That survey showed 95% of Blacks in New York backing Obama. The Real Estate mogul said the numbers were "frightening." Maybe if Trump runs and win in 2016 he might be a blessing for the Black race. It's understanding why Obama is so popular among Blacks. He is the first person with African blood in him to become President. That is the number one reason he is so popular with African Americans. He can't make life better for them because he can't dictate to them on what they must do. Obama only showed them, no matter what your background you can become President of the United States. In Foreign Policy, Obama ordered U.S. Military intervention in Iraq in response to gains made by the Islamic State after the 2011 withdrawal from Iraq, he continued the process of ending U.S. Combat Operations in Afghanistan and normalizing U.S. Relations with Cuba. Also, he is getting a Nuclear Ban Treaty with Iran. Maybe Donald Trump, if he become President will motivate young Blacks to be productive, obey the Law, be honest and blame no one and achieve their full potential goal in life. Obama has his hands full with other pressing issues than to motivate Blacks. Trump is about business and Blacks must contribute to this Society if they want to be successful. The Jury is still out on Trump. I am willing to give him a chance. Our Country is on a downhill decline. Maybe Trump will make America great again.
