Authors Chathapuram S. Ramanathan and Rosemary J. Link anticipate the new CSWE accreditation standards, stressing the importance of international content to the effectiveness of social work programs. In this cutting-edge book, the authors focus on a global commitment to sustainable human development and encourage the interaction of social workers globally. Focusing on guiding social workers in facilitating a more humane and multidimensional approach to social and economic development and a sensitivity to marginalized citizens of the globe, the authors emphasize reciprocity of professional technology and practice rather than exporting expertise from Western nations. The authors (who contributed seven of the book's thirteen chapters), together with the contributing researchers, present a variety of perspectives that provide opportunities for exhilarating discussions. As readers explore the book, they will be impressed with the highly-focused themes and framework, supplemented by cases, exercises, and superb photographs.
